GIT-COLUMN(1)                    Git Manual                    GIT-COLUMN(1)

NAME

   git-column - Display data in columns

SYNOPSIS

   git column [--command=<name>] [--[raw-]mode=<mode>] [--width=<width>]

      [--indent=<string>] [--nl=<string>] [--padding=<n>]

DESCRIPTION

   This command formats the lines of its standard input into a table with multiple columns.

   Each input line occupies one cell of the table. It is used internally by other git commands to format output into columns.

OPTIONS

   --command=<name>

      Look up layout mode using configuration variable column.<name> and column.ui.

   --mode=<mode>

      Specify layout mode. See configuration variable column.ui for option syntax in gitconfig(1).

   --raw-mode=<n>

      Same as --mode but take mode encoded as a number. This is mainly used by other commands that have already parsed layout mode.

   --width=<width>

      Specify the terminal width. By default git column will detect the terminal width, or fall back to 80 if it is unable to do so.

   --indent=<string>

String to be printed at the beginning of each line.

--nl=<string>

String to be printed at the end of each line, including newline character.

--padding=<N>

The number of spaces between columns. One space by default.

EXAMPLES

Format data by columns:

```
$ seq 1 24 | git column --mode=column --padding=5
```

```
1    4    7    10    13    16    19    22

2    5    8    11    14    17    20    23

3    6    9    12    15    18    21    24
```

Format data by rows:

```
$ seq 1 21 | git column --mode=row --padding=5
```

```
1    2    3    4    5    6    7

8    9    10    11    12    13    14

15    16    17    18    19    20    21
```

List some tags in a table with unequal column widths:

```
$ git tag --list 'v2.4.*' --column=row,dense
```
