NAME

    ptardiff - program that diffs an extracted archive against an unextracted one

DESCRIPTION

    ptardiff is a small program that diffs an extracted archive against an unextracted one, using the perl module Archive::Tar.

    This effectively lets you view changes made to an archives contents.

    Provide the progam with an ARCHIVE_FILE and it will look up all the files with in the archive, scan the current working directory for a file with the name and diff it against the contents of the archive.
