$ man rnano.1

RNANO(1)   General Commands Manual   RNANO(1)

NAME

   rnano - a restricted nano

SYNOPSIS

   rnano [options] [[+line[,column]] file]...

DESCRIPTION

   rnano runs the nano editor in restricted mode. This allows editing only the specified file or files, and doesn't allow the user access to the filesystem nor to a command shell.

   In restricted mode, nano will:

   ? not allow suspending;

   ? not allow saving the current buffer under a different name;

   ? not allow inserting another file or opening a new buffer;

   ? not allow appending or prepending to any file;

   ? not make backup files nor do spell checking.

OPTIONS

   -h, --help

       Show the available command-line options and exit.

   For all existing options, see the nano(1) man page.
