Red Hat Enterprise Linux Release 9.2 Manual Pages on 'grl-launch-0.3.1' command

$ man grl-launch-0.3.1

grl-launch(1)          General Commands Manual          grl-launch(1)

NAME

   grl-launch - run Grilo operations from the command line

SYNOPSIS

   grl-launch [OPTIONS] OPERATION PARAMETERS

DESCRIPTION

   This manual page documents briefly the grl-launch command.

   grl-launch  is a tool that allows the user to run Grilo operations from the command line.

OPERATIONS

   browse <source>|<media box>

   may_resolve <key> <source>|<media box> [<source>]

   query <expression> <source>

   resolve <source>|<media> [<source>]

   search <term> <source> monitor <source>

   test_media_from_uri <uri> [<source>]

   media_from_uri <uri> <source>

OPTIONS

   -h, --help

      Show summary of grl-launch options.

   --help-grl

      Show summary of Grilo options.

--help-all

    Show summary of all options.

-C, --config

    Configuration file to send to sources

-c, --count

    Number of elements to return

-d, --delay

    Wait some seconds before performing  the  operation  (default  1 second)

-f, --flags=full|fast_only|idle_relay

    List of comma-separated flags to use

-F, --full

    Full serialize

-k, --keys

    List of comma-separated keys to retrieve

-S, --serialize

    Serialize

-s, --skip

    Number of elements to skip

-T, --titles

    Print column titles (useful for CSV spreadsheets)

-V, --version

    Print version

EXAMPLES

Print the ID for all the items searched in the Tracker source:

    grl-launch-0.3 search "" -S grl-tracker-source

Print the ID and title for the items in the Apple Trailers source:

    grl-launch-0.3 -k id,title browse grl-appletrailers-lua

Print the title for the videos indexed by Tracker:

    grl-launch-0.3 -S browse -k title grlcontainer://grl-tracker-source/videos

AUTHOR

This manual page was written by Alberto Garcia <berto@igalia.com>.